

DOWNRIVER ACTORS GUILD

Harry Audition Sides

Vocal Selection – Take What You Got

Harry

Piano/Vocal

TAKE WHAT YOU GOT

Perform as a solo

Music and Lyrics by CYNDI LAUPERVocal Arrangement by STEPHEN OREMUS

CHARLIE: "Is selling cheap imports your aspiration?"

HARRY: "If my life was nothing more than shoes, you'd find me swinging by my tie from a steam pipe." [MUSIC]

HARRY: (cont.) "My guitar, my mates, and music are my escape. It ain't perfect, but it's what I got."

START Mumford-esque ♩ = 122

1 mf B⁵ BMaj⁷ 2 B⁵ BMaj⁷ 3 E² F[#]/E 4 E² F[#]/E

5 HARRY: 6 3 7 8
Re-mem-ber the pub where our fa-ther's went to spend the end of their days?

B⁵ BMaj⁷ B⁵ BMaj⁷ E² F[#]/E E² F[#]/E

9 CHARLIE: 10 11 HARRY: 12
Re-mem-ber the yard be - hind the pub where we'd run and play? Yeah well,

B⁵ BMaj⁷ B⁵ BMaj⁷ E² F[#]/E E² F[#]/E

13 now the pub is a laun - dro-mat, 14 15 CHARLIE: 16 Now the yard is a high rise flat. You

17 can't go back you can't make it last. 18 19 You've got-ta 20

21 take what you got. 22 23 Ev - en when your life is in 24

25 knots. You take aim, 26 take your shot. Some -

Chords: G#m7, E2, B5, F#sus, B5, BMaj7, E2, F#/E, E2, f G#m7, E2, B5, F#sus, G#m7, E2

27 28 29

times you've got - ta re - write the plot. You've got - ta take what you

B⁵ F[#]sus G[#]m7

→ 31 32 33 34

got.

CHARLIE:

You'd al-ways say that one of these days we'd get out of North-am - ton__ town.____

mf B⁵ BMaj⁷ B⁵ BMaj⁷ E² F[#]/E E² F[#]/E

35 36 37 38

HARRY:

You'd al-ways say that you would-n't stay, no you would-n't stick a - round.____

B⁵ BMaj⁷ B⁵ BMaj⁷ E² F[#]/E E² F[#]/E

Reading – The Pub

Charlie
Harry

HARRY

Not bad for a discount shoe salesman. Eh?

CHARLIE

Really terrific, Harry. To you.

CHARLIE hands HARRY a drink.

HARRY

To your father. Aye? He was a gent.

CHARLIE

(toasts)

And to yours.

HARRY

Well mate, I assume you didn't come all the way to London just to buy me a drink.

CHARLIE

(drinks)

Seems we find ourselves with six hundred pairs of brogues and no buyer.

HARRY

Chambers finally cancelled your orders completely. I heard.

CHARLIE

(Powering through)

But then I remembered the time your father found his stock short and my dad, at no small expense, took on the task of filling the shortfall.

HARRY

No fair conjuring ancient history.

CHARLIE

I'll give them to you at cost. Cost, Harry. For old time's sake.

HARRY slips off his shoe and hands it to CHARLIE.

HARRY

See these, Charlie? I import them from Slovakia and sell them for a fraction of your cost.

CHARLIE

But they're shite. A Price shoe will last a man a lifetime. The poor sod who buys these will need new ones in a season.

HARRY

And I'll be right there to sell him a pair at a very affordable price.

CHARLIE

(Tossing the shoe back pointedly.)

Ever hear the saying: poor people stay poor because they buy cheap shoes?

HARRY

You ever hear the saying: No matter how far down the wrong road you've gone, turn back? Selling off inventory is only going to prolong the inevitable. But tell me, Charlie, is manufacturing shoes really what you had your cap set on?

CHARLIE

Is selling cheap imports your aspiration?

#3 - Take What You Got

The BAND starts to play...

HARRY

If my life was nothing more than shoes, you'd find me swinging by my tie from a steam pipe.

(Indicating his guitar.)

My guitar, my mates, and music are my escape. It ain't perfect, but it's what I got.

REMEMBER THE PUB WHERE OUR FATHERS WENT TO SPEND THE END OF THEIR DAY?

CHARLIE

REMEMBER THE YARD BEHIND THE PUB
WHERE WE'D RUN AND PLAY?

HARRY

WELL, NOW THE PUB IS A LAUNDROMAT

CHARLIE

NOW THE YARD IS A HIGH RISE FLAT

HARRY

YOU CAN'T GO BACK
YOU CAN'T MAKE IT LAST.

YOU'VE GOT TO TAKE WHAT YOU'VE GOT EVEN WHEN YOUR LIFE IS IN KNOTS.
YOU TAKE AIM, TAKE YOUR SHOT
SOMETIMES YOU GOT TO REWRITE THE PLOT
YOU GOT TO TAKE WHAT YOU GOT.